

A native of Cherokee County, Randy Gravley graduated from Cherokee High School and Reinhardt University (formerly Reinhardt College) prior to completing his education at Kennesaw State University. He is currently President & CEO of Tri-State Communications, Inc. which includes divisions of radio, magazine and digital.

Involved in a variety of organizations, Randy serves on the Pickens Chamber of Commerce Board of Director's, Sequoyah Regional Library Board of Director's, History Cherokee Board of Director's and is the Co-Chair of the National Association of Broadcaster's Political Action Committee. Randy's past service includes serving as Chairman of the Cherokee County Elections Board, member of the A Day for Reinhardt Advisory Board. He is a Past Chair of the Georgia Association of Broadcasters as well as Past Chairman of the National Association of Broadcaster's Radio Board of Directors.

Randy is a proud graduate of both Leadership Pickens and Cherokee as well as a graduate of Leadership Georgia and recognized by Georgia Trend Magazine as one of Georgia's 40 Under 40.